

life sciences teaching unit dundee

CLIENT: The university of Dundee

ARCHITECT: LDN Architects

M&E Value: £1.5m

SECTORS:

Historical > Refurbishments

Laboratories > Teaching

The University's flag ship Life Sciences Faculty required new teaching laboratory and classroom facilities fit for a leading University in the 21st Century.

Irons Foulner were appointed to their team to carry out the major alteration and refurbishment works at the Old Medical School and Carnelley Buildings.

The project involves the complete refurbishment of these two large laboratory buildings with teaching labs, computer labs, prep rooms, lecture theatres and office facilities.

All of the mechanical and electrical services are being replaced with new installations.